

Terry R. Armstrong is a management consultant specializing in ethics, and organizational change. He has been a Sr. Fellow in Social Ethics at Georgetown University and Professor of Management at the University of West Florida. He has also served as Chair of the Management Consulting Division of the Academy of Management. Terry has over 35 years of consulting to over 50 companies. Currently he is a Doctoral Professor of Management at Colorado Technical University in Colorado Springs, CO.